A street organ (a barrel organ)

A Bicycle built for two

Daisy, Daisy,
Give me your answer, do!
I'm half crazy,
All for the love of you!
It won't be a stylish marriage,
I can't afford a carriage
But you'll look sweet upon the seat
Of a bicycle made for two.

Patrick, Patrick, here is your answer true!
I know that trick, and it will never do.
If you can't afford a carriage,
Then there will be no marriage,
For I insist I won't be kissed
In a bicycle built for two

The song's Background.

- Bicycle riding became very popular in 1890-s in England and other countries. Harry Dacre, a songwriter from London, wrote a waltz about an imaginary romantic problem with a bicycle built for two. It was immediate success. When a bicycle craze (boom) was over? People have continued to sing about Daisy, and even have added to the story.

- In the 1970-s bicycles once again became fashionable for adult riders all over the world.
- Daisy's answer to Patrick was written by an American teacher, Garry Gabriel? During a seminar for teachers of English in Yugoslavia in 1972.
