4. Moscow, we are in trouble!

The background of the slide is a photograph of the Apollo 13 mission control room. It shows a large, curved wall with a white, textured surface. Two large, circular air vents are visible at the top, each with a black cover and a white, honeycomb-patterned filter. The room is dimly lit, with the primary light source being the air vents. The overall atmosphere is one of a high-stakes, technical environment.

Houston, we have a problem!

(Appollo 13)
