BODY OF THE LETTER

IT IS BEST, EVEN FOR A SHORT LETTER, TO DIVIDE THE BODY INTO AT LEAST TWO OR THREE PARAGRAPHS.

PARAGRAPH ONE

State your purpose

This part is usually a short paragraph. Anything too long will cause the reader to lose patience.

Begin with information that catches the reader's attention and refers to some need or interest of the reader. Refer to a previous letter, contact or document. Put the "you" into the letter.

PARAGRAPH TWO

Explain what you want to happen or explain the information you have

It explains the information you are giving, or it explains what you want the recipient to do. It doesn't need to be elaborate, but it does need to include all of the information the recipient needs. If you have a lot of information, break it into short paragraphs, make a list or refer to an attachment. Underlining essential information is one way to highlight key points for your reader. Your letter should be organized to help the recipient understand what to know or what to do.

BODY OF THE LETTER

PARAGRAPH THREE

Request a dated action, conclude or thank the reader for his response

It is usually a short paragraph. Depending on the purpose of the letter, it will do one of three things:

- Conclude.

In an informational letter, this allows you to point out the most important item or draw all your key points into one statement.

- Request action.

In letters that require a response, such as collection letters, you define the action you want the recipient to take. In this part, you tell the reader what to do and when to do it. Being vague gets vague results. Be specific.

- Thank the reader.

In some letters, this part is simply a thank you for the recipient's attention, response or concern.

Lance Smith, Director
Terrance Trucking
P.O. Box 4440
Houston, TX 34598-4440

Dear Mr. Smith:

Thank you for your conscientious service. All 15 of your last shipments have arrived undamaged. We have never contracted with a supplier with as fine a record as yours. We appreciate the extra effort it takes to ship our order intact and on time.

Ted McCracken and Bob Smiley have delivered these shipments to our loading dock supervisor. I have attached copies of logs for your review. Note that the unloading time is approximately half of that from other shippers for a similar load. Ted and Bob frequently help our crew unload the crates. This additional service always comes with an exchange of jokes. Our crew collects laughs to compete with your drivers!

Doing business with your organization is a pleasure. You save us money by eliminating shipping waste and time by providing efficient drivers. Please accept the enclosed certificates of merit to Terrance Trucking, Ted and Bob, with our appreciation. We are confident in referring our customers and vendors to Terrance Trucking for their shipping needs.

Sincerely,

Cala Reginald

ENCLOSURE LINE and COPIES LINE

Enclosure line is used as a reference check by both the recipient and sender to make sure everything included in the letter was actually sent.

“Enclosures” or “Encl.” is typed two lines below the signature and flush with the left margin. If more than one item is enclosed, list the items or type the number of items in the parentheses. If you wish the reader to return any of the enclosures, type (please return) after the item.

If you wish to know the reader who else is receiving a copy of the letter, type “Copy to”, “Copies to” or “cc” (carbon copy), followed by names of persons receiving the copies. If you do not want the recipient to know you have sent copies of the letter to others, enter a blind copy notation (bcc:) on the copies only.
