

SHOPPING FOR CLOTHES

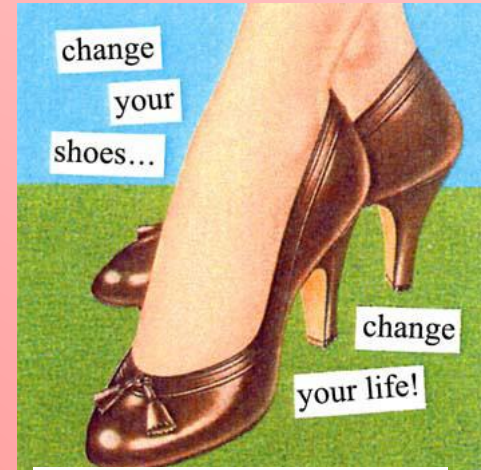

[ou]

[ei]

[ɜ]

[e]

[dʒ]

Listen and check:

Tim: Excuse me, can you show the trousers?

Shop assistant: Yes, here you are .

Tim: How much are they?

Shop assistant.: 10 pounds .

Tim: Here you are.

Shop assistant: Thank you.

The Smith Family.

It is 7 o'clock in the morning. Mrs. Smith gets up and goes to the kitchen to cook breakfast. She is wearing a pink dress. Then Mr. Smith gets up and begins to dress. He puts on his new shirt and grey trousers. Then he sits down on his bed and puts on his shoes.

Their children come to the kitchen too. Ted is ready to go to school. He is wearing a white shirt and blue trousers.

Kate is wearing a white blouse, and black skirt.

After breakfast Mr. Smith goes to work. Mrs. Smith looks out of the window and says, "Oh, it is raining! Children, take your raincoat"

Complete the crossword:

