

subculture

Punks

Punk movement was born in the mid-1970s. XX centuries. in England during the period of severe economic crisis. The main slogan of punk - "No future!". Punk philosophy - the philosophy of the "lost generation", the simple to the extreme: in a pigsty and better themselves to be a pig. They finally decided that a better world can not, and therefore life and career in the old sense of the word has been given up. For political predilections punks considered anarchists. From their main symbol - the stylized letter "A".

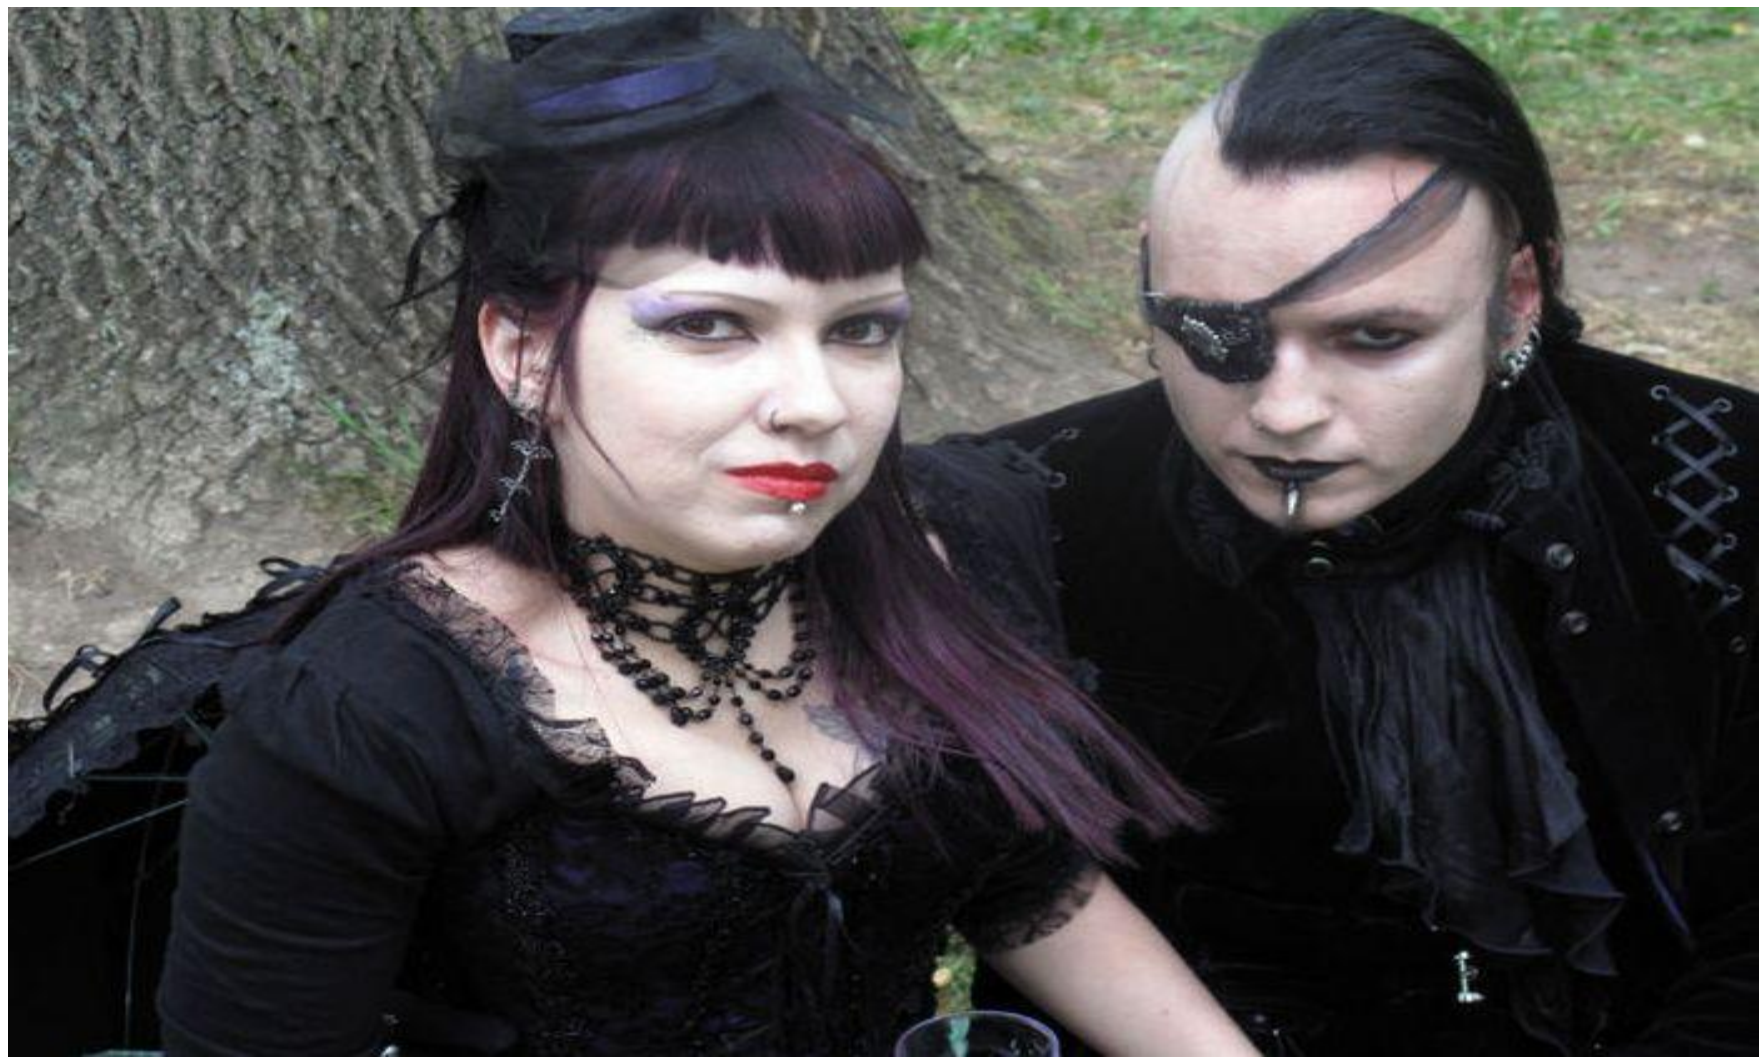

Standard punk haircut is considered a "mohawk" - a strip of long hair standing vertically cropped head. Punks prefer ragged, dirty clothes. Punks - the most inveterate party-goers, the big "experts" of drinking, drugs, fights - apparently from idleness.

Gothic

It originated in the late 70s. XX century. on the wave of post-punk. Early Goths have taken a lot of punks, they looked as punks, with the only difference that the dominant color of the clothes and hair were black (with accents of white, red or purple) and silver ornaments. Initially, the Goths were called only fans of gothic music groups. Gradually, the Goths acquired their own style of life, the hierarchy of values and mentality.

Modern Gothic image is quite complex and diverse, it includes clothing, shoes, jewelry, accessories, make-up, hairstyle. Gothic aesthetics is very eclectic set of characters, using both the Egyptian and the Christian and Celtic. Well represented occult symbols - the pentagram, eight-pointed stars (symbols of chaos), symbols of death.

Emo

short for "emotional" - a term denoting a special kind of hardcore music, based on crushing strong emotions in his voice and a melodic singer, but sometimes chaotic musical component. Squeal, crying, moaning, whispering broken on cry - the distinctive features of this style.

Today, this style of music is divided into: emocore, emo rock, cyber emo punk emo emo vayolens, screamo, Ffrench-emocore hardcore San Diego and others. The fans of emo music, allocated to a particular subculture are called emo kids . The concept of emo is very common among today's youth. Besides bright outfit, hairstyle and make-up of these children, there are other ways to express themselves. Through music and exacerbation of emotions about everything that happens in their lives.

Thrill

Those who love life as anyone else, but willing to take risks again and again for the unforgettable feeling of freedom.

Some modern sports, which began to move in the world of 50-ies. XX century., It gradually became commonly called extreme. These sports include skateboarding, snowboarding, parachuting, rock climbing and so on. D. Extreme sports are born every day. They are characterized by a high degree of danger to the life and health of the athlete, a large number of acrobatic tricks, high level of adrenaline, which is released at the sportsman during exercise.

