Robot

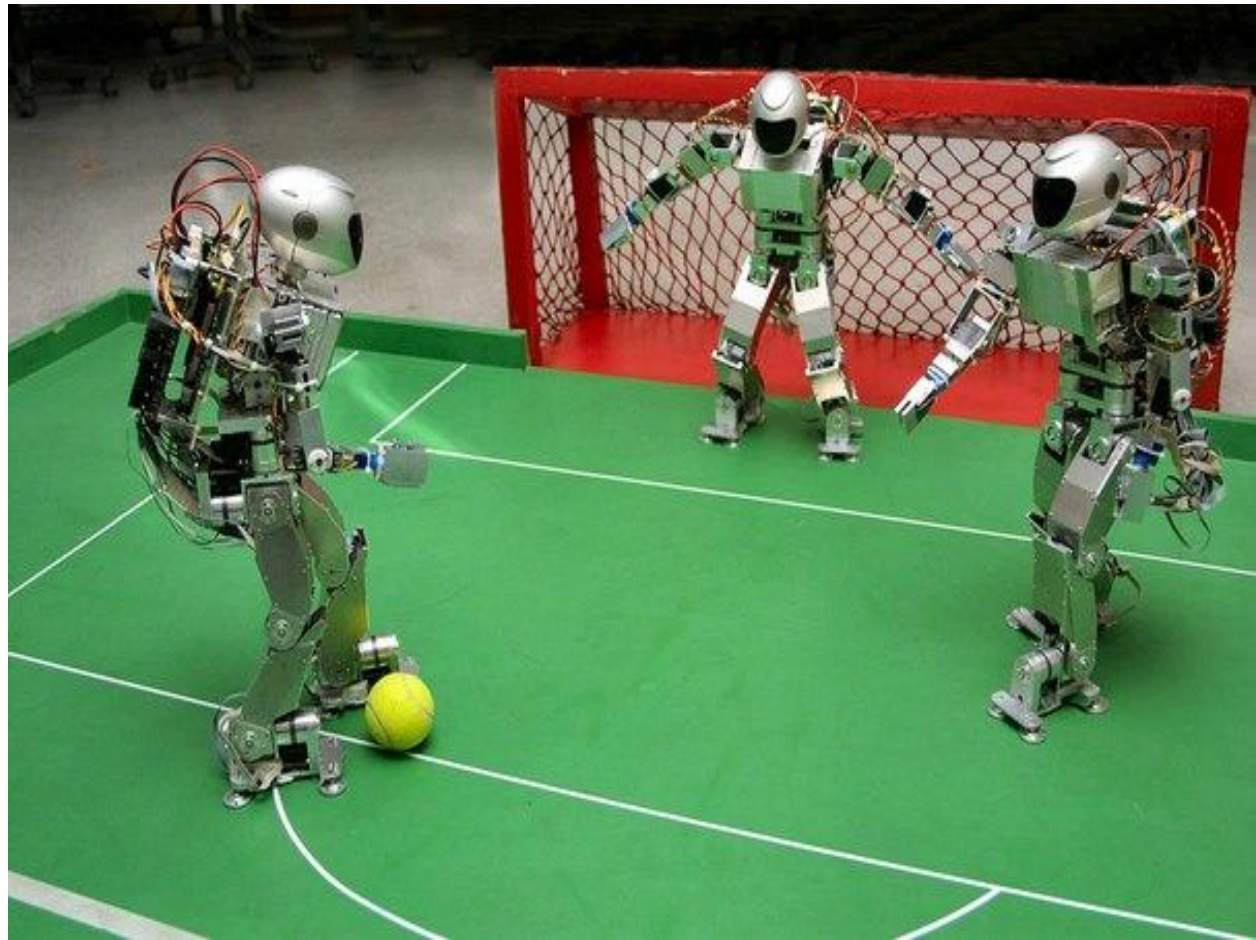

Robots are already part of everyday life.

Example: the quadrocopter already deliver (in the US)

Geniuses from around the world working at Google, create artificial intelligence, able to beat the man.

In the future, most processes will be automated and performed by robots. For example, we can assume that people will be able to control his copy, not leaving the house(film: Surrogates), it is thus possible to increase the efficiency.