

SORBONNE

The image shows a large, historic building with a central clock tower and a series of arched openings on the ground floor. The building is made of light-colored stone or brick. The sky is blue with some clouds. The text is overlaid in red on the image.

The history of this institution began in 1215

4 Faculty

- Theology
- Law
- Medicine
- Arts

- Today many universities welcome foreign students. Despite the fact that education abroad remains highly expensive, the number of those who wish to get it is not decreasing.