Tribute to Native Indians

- A lot of people were sure that Thanksgiving Day was long ago established to recollect pilgrims who saved Indians giving them some meat and vegetables. But now everybody knows that it is a holiday to express gratitude towards Lord Almighty for his benedictions. And the Indians enjoy universal esteem as they showed the newcomers how to prepare meals under new conditions. The newcomers would surely have died if the native people hadn't have assisted them in that difficult situation.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Farewell, O fragrant pumpkin pie!...

- Farewell, O fragrant pumpkin pie!
- *Dyspeptic pork, adieu!
Though to the college halls I hie.
On field of battle though I die, my latest sob, my latest sigh
shall wafted be to you!
And thou, O doughnut rare and rich and fried divinely brown!
Thy form shall fill a noble niche in memory's chamber whilst I pitch my tent beside the river which rolls on through Kingston town.
And my Love—my little Nell,
the apple of my eye to thee how can I say farewell?
I love thee more than I can tell;
I love thee more than anything—but—pie!*

Thanksgiving Day Songs

- Hello, Mr. Turkey

Hello, Mr. Turkey how are you?
Hello, Mr. Turkey, how are you?
With a gobble, gobble, gobble,
And a wobble, wobble, wobble.
Hello, Mr. Turkey, how are you?

- Mr. Turkey

I have a turkey, big and fat.
(Make a fist with one hand-thumb Out for turkey's head)
He spreads his tail and walks like that.
(Attach "tail" by spreading Out fingers of other hand and join together)
His daily corn he would not miss.
(Poke with thumb at floor)
And when he talks, it sounds like this:
Gobble Gobble Gobble
