State and Federal System

Historically state and local government came first.

- The states have their own legislative, executive and judicial institutions
- State and local government control important areas like:
 - Highways
 - State income tax
 - Public schools and universities
 - Police and fire departments
 - Regulate business and supervise commercial affairs
 - The Federal system of government controls:
 - Foreign policy, defense and monetary policy
 - Areas that cannot be regulated locally and statewise: interstate commerce, interstate crime, interstate environmental problems etc.

The Legislative Branch: Congress Passes legislation and appropriates money

- The House of Representatives
 435 members

 –according to the size of the state
- 2-year term

- The Senate
- 100 members -two from each state
- 6-year term

The Executive Branch: The Presidency

4-year term - max two 4-year terms Protects the Constitution Proposes legislation Enforces the laws made by Congress Commander in Chief of the armed forces Appoints judges to Supreme Court (with the consent of the Senate)

The Executive Branch: The Cabinet

No mention of it in the Constitution
 Subordinate to the President
 Cabinet members recruited broadly, not necessarily party insiders

The Supreme Court

9 members

Life term appointment
Interprets and guards the Constitution
Interprets the law
Decisions of the Supreme Court are final
In general it plays a conservative role, maintaining legal tradition

Checks and Balances

Congress: Power of the purse Can override presidential veto (2/3 majority) Power of impeachment Senate approves treaties and the president's appointments

Supreme Court: Power to declare laws and presidential actions unconstitutional

The President: Power to veto Issues executive orders Commander-in-chief Appoints Federal Judges Grants Pardons for offenses against the US

Elections and Political Parties

Winner-take-all-election system ► The Electoral College Two party system- both appealing to the middle of the political spectrum Balancing the ticket (President and Vice) president) Voting patterns: splitting the ticket Voting for individuals rather than party slate

The Electoral College

- Representatives of the people in presidential elections
- 534 electors, corresponding to the numbers of Representatives and Senators
 - 270 electoral votes guarantee the Presidency
- Each state votes as a single block (minus Nebraska and Maine) winner takes all
 - Importance of Swing States and the big states

Democrats and Republicans And Their Voters

- Democrats supported by majority of black voters (Clinton 83%)
- Urban ethnics
- Blue collar workers
- Catholics
- More women voters
 Northeast, upper midwest, northwest, Hawaii

- Protestant voters
- Business community
- White collar workers

Religious fundamentalists
