The Constitution of the United States is the supreme law of the United States of America. It is the framework for the organization of the United States government and for the relationship of the federal government with the states, citizens, and all people within the United States. The United States Constitution is the oldest written constitution (when defined as a single document) still in use by any nation in the world.

Political Parties

Republican Party

They believe in low taxation
And little interference from the Federal Government. They encourage individuals to work hard and do not like welfare.

A party for the rich and Middle Class.

Republican Presidents

Dwight Eisenhower
1953-61

Richard Nixon
1969-74

Gerard Ford
1974-77

Political Parties

Democratic Party

Believe it is the government's duty to distribute wealth Evenly. They introduce higher taxation and welfare benefits.

Their support comes from urban areas and minorities.

Democrat Presidents

John F Kennedy 1961-63

Lyndon B Johnson
1963-68

Harry S. Truman 1945-53
The President of the USA

Jimmy Carter 1977-81

Democrats and Republicans And Their Voters

- Democrats supported by majority of black voters (Clinton 83%)
- Urban ethnics
- Blue collar workers
- Catholics
- More women voters
- Northeast, upper midwest, northwest, Hawaii
- Protestant voters
- Business community
- White collar workers
- Religious fundamentalists

Democrats and Republicans and Their Policies

- Democrats
 - Support welfare programs
 - Keynesian economics and job creating programs
 - Social security, Medicare and Medicaid
 - Civil Rights legislation
 - Women's right to abortion
- Republicans
 - Limiting federal regulation of business
 - Reduction in welfare spending
 - Anti-abortion

Presidential elections

- Plurality voting system: „The winner takes all!“
- Election of a party in form of electors
- Elected electors represent the opinion of their state in the „Electoral College“
- The party with the most votes gets all the electoral votes of this state -> The parties have to look that they win in the states with a high amount of electors.

Problem

- Parties and candidates try to get as many as possible votes in states with a high amount of electors and ignore the others
- The party with more than 270 electoral votes wins, though an other one has more votes of the people in fact (f.e. Bush vs. Gore)

Barack Obama

- was elected the 44th President of the United States on Tuesday, November 4, 2008
- Democratic Party
- is the first Black Man ever elected to the highest office in the United States
