TENNIS CHAMP ASHE HAS AIDS

AND ALLAN WALKER
in New York

TENNIS legend Arthur Ashe has AIDS, it was revealed last night.

The former Wimbledon champion contracted the virus from blood to his groin during a heart operation 15 years ago.

Ashe, 44, underwent the operation before winning his first Wimbledon title in 1975.

Star

Ashe was diagnosed last year and has been taking the drug AZT in an attempt to hold the virus at bay.

The star - first ranked in the world - is one of many 100,000 people in America who have contracted the virus through transfused blood.

Ashe, married with a 12-year-old daughter, rushed the diagnosis to the public in 1982 when he met Jimmy Carter in the White House.

The former tennis champion died in a Virginia mansion last May at the age of 33.

ELECTION SPECIAL

IT'S D-day folks - the day you make the big decision about who you want to run our great country.

You know our views on the subject but we don't want to influence you in your final judgment on who will be Prime Minister.

But if it's a bald bloke with wispy red hair and two K's in his surname, we'll see you at the airport!

Goodnight and thank you for everything.
