

WHY DO PEOPLE TRAVEL?

A photograph of the Colosseum in Rome, Italy, taken at dusk. The sky is a mix of blue and purple, with some clouds. The Colosseum is illuminated from within, casting a warm orange glow through its arches. The structure is partially ruined, with some sections missing. In the foreground, there are some dark silhouettes of trees and a fence. On the left side, there is a decorative orange arrow pointing right and some thin, light-colored lines.

A green canoe with a wooden interior is shown on a body of water. The canoe is viewed from a side-on perspective, showing its curved hull and the wooden ribs inside. The water is calm with some ripples. In the upper left corner, there is a red arrow pointing to the right. The word "CANOE" is written in a large, black, serif font across the upper part of the image. The name "Chesnut" is visible on the side of the canoe near the stern.

A large white rocket with black boosters is ascending vertically against a clear blue sky. The rocket has a white nose cone with the word 'ЭНЕРГИЯ' (ENERGIYA) written in red. The boosters are black with white markings. At the bottom, a bright orange and yellow flame is visible from the engines. The word 'ROCKET' is written in a large, bold, black, serif font across the middle of the image. In the top left corner, there is a solid orange arrow pointing to the right. On the left side, there are several thin, curved, light-colored lines that look like stylized grass or reeds.
