

World Heritage Sites in Canada

Banff National Park

Canada's oldest national park, established in 1885 in the Canadian Rockies. The park accommodates numerous glaciers and ice fields, dense coniferous forests and alpine scenery. The main commercial center of the park - the town of Banff in the valley of the Bow River.

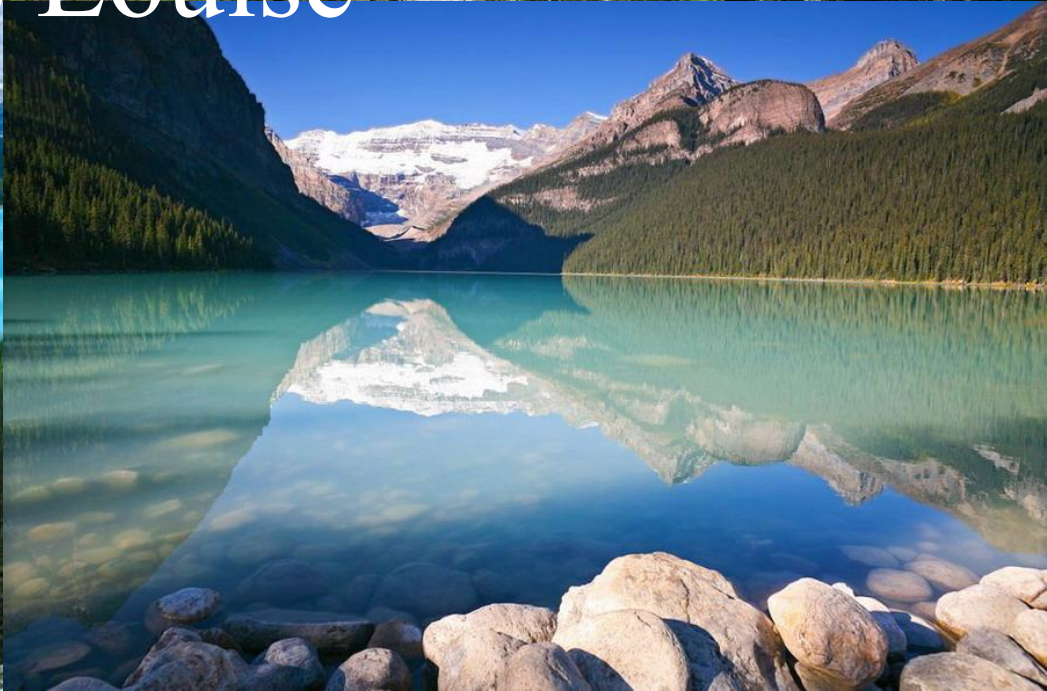

Moraine Lake (glacial lake)

Lake Louise

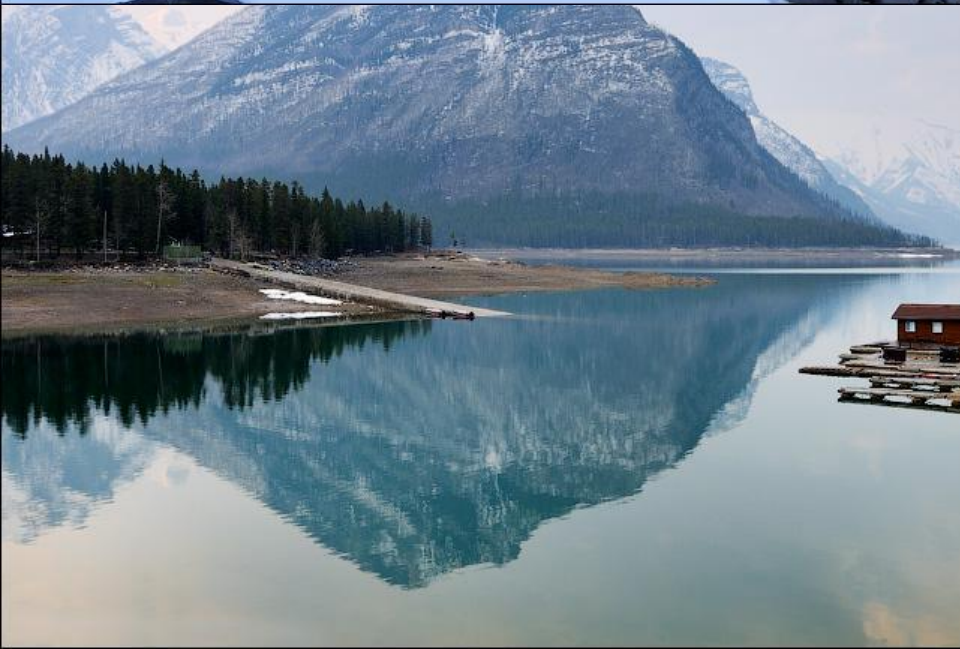

Castle Mountain

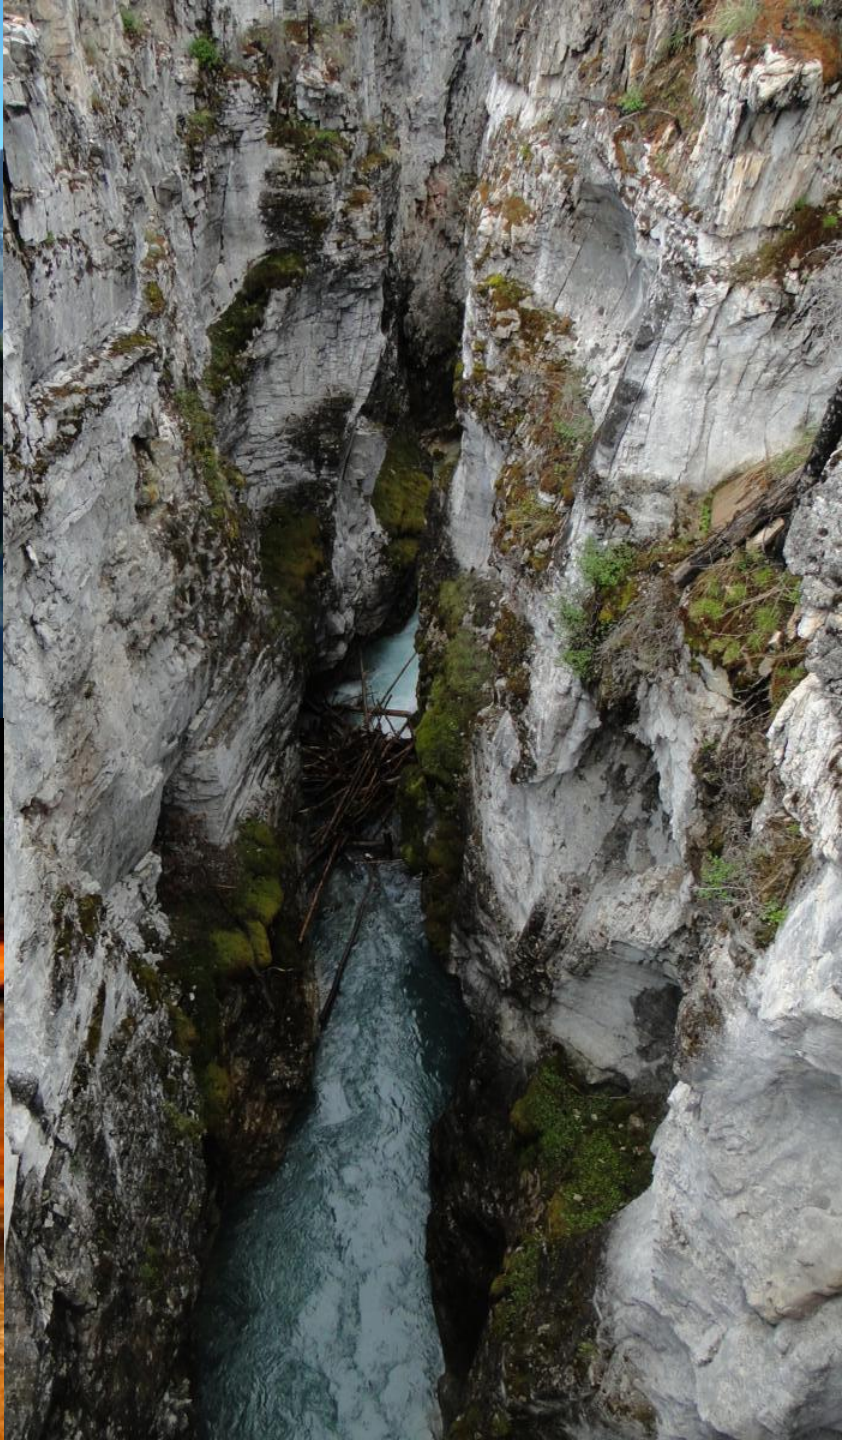

Lake Minnewanka

Kootenay National Park

Park holds a luxurious mountains, lakes, as well as cold springs. This site was mined "red earth", or red ocher to paint. In the park there are hot springs and cold springs. Hot springs are in Sinclair Canyon and Redwall Fault. Cold springs, rich in iron, located in the Paint Pots

«Red earth»

Jasper National Park

The park was founded in 1907. Located in the province of Alberta. Is the largest reserve in the Rockies. The park is one of the most visited tourist destination of environmental facilities in Canada. There are hotels, ski slopes, golf courses and other recreational infrastructure.

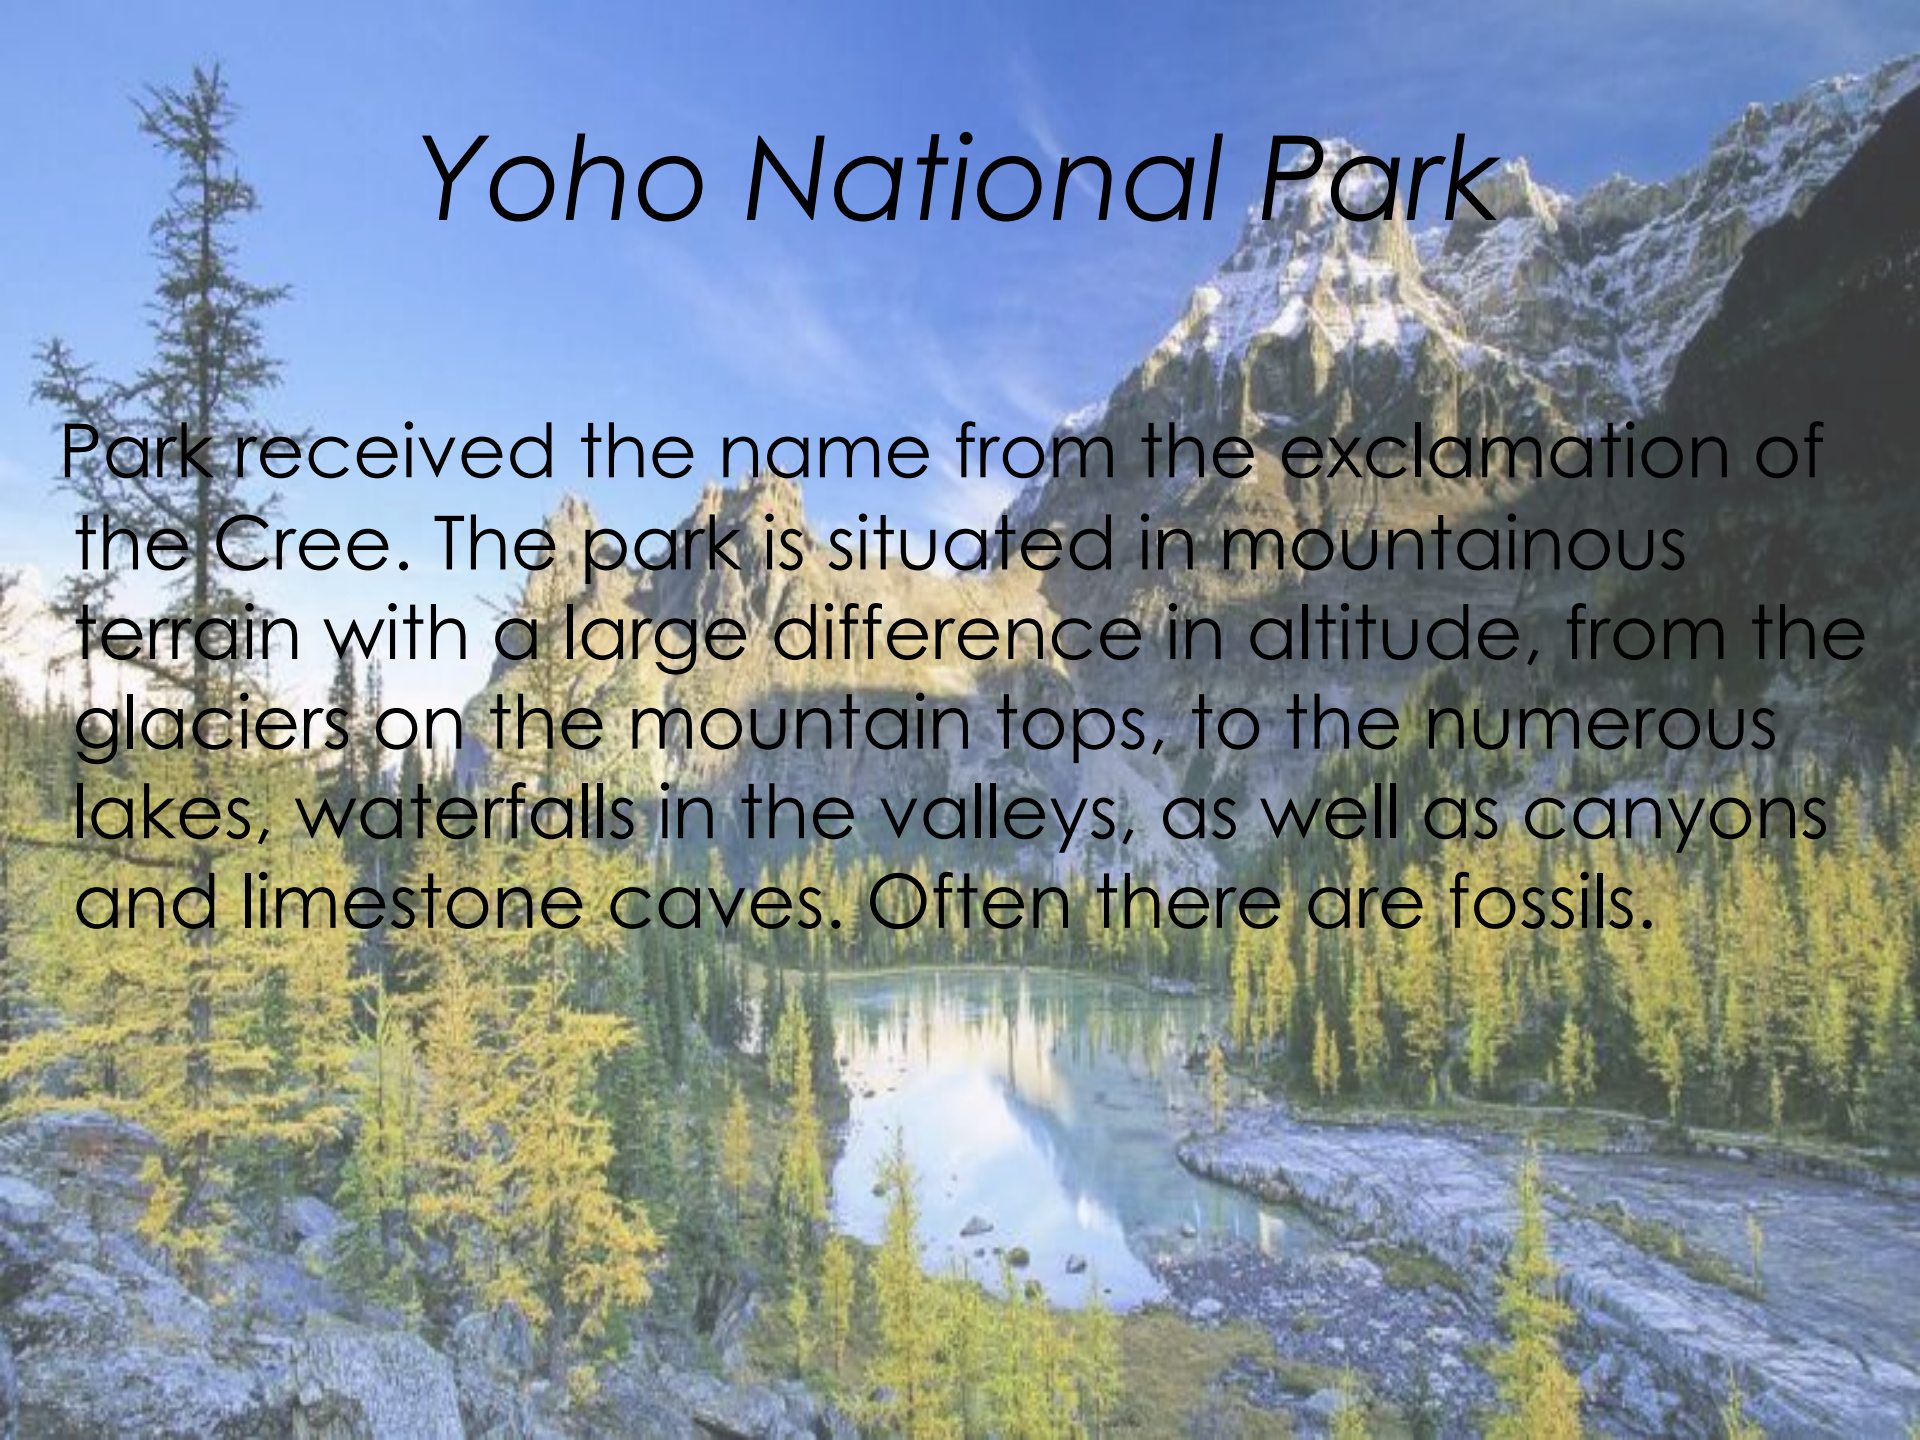

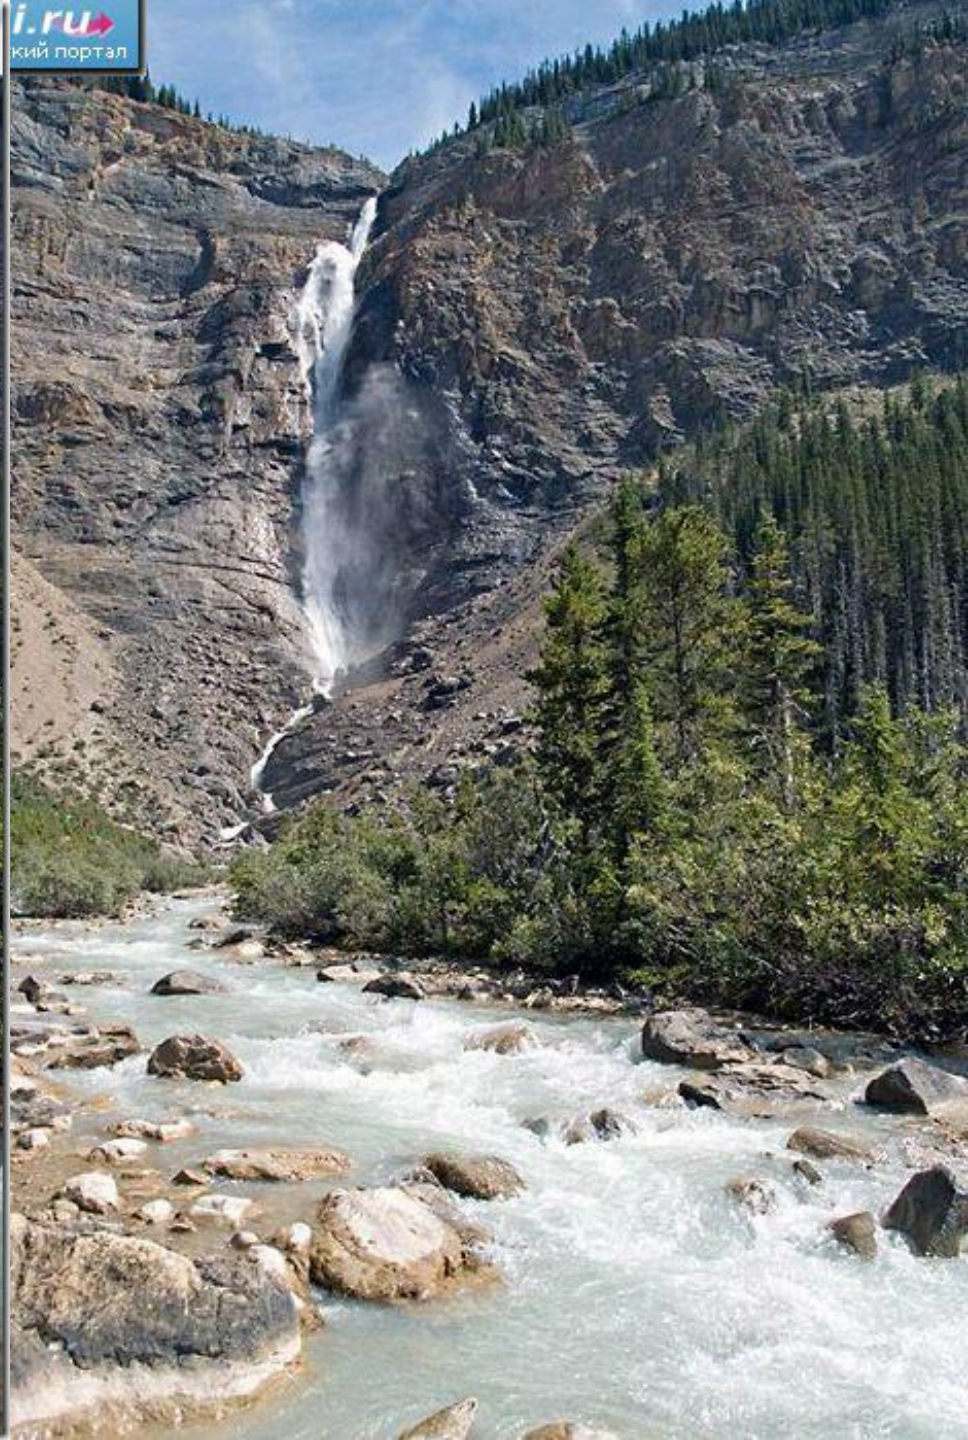

Yoho National Park

Park received the name from the exclamation of the Cree. The park is situated in mountainous terrain with a large difference in altitude, from the glaciers on the mountain tops, to the numerous lakes, waterfalls in the valleys, as well as canyons and limestone caves. Often there are fossils.

Mont Robson
Provincial Park

Jasper
National Park

Hamber
Provincial Park

Yoho
National Park

Banff
National Park

Kootenay
National Park

Mount Assiniboine Provincial Park