

The background features a vibrant green field of grass at the bottom, with a golden vine and leaves running across it. On the left side, a portion of a blue and green globe is visible, partially obscured by a golden, curved, reflective surface. The top half of the image is dominated by a large, bright blue sky with a massive, fluffy white cloud. A white rectangular box with a thin blue border is centered in the sky, containing the title and author information.
