«Там, где ромашки цветут»

A black and white historical photograph capturing a moment of triumph during the war. A large group of soldiers and civilians are gathered in a city street, celebrating. In the foreground, a soldier in a dark uniform has his arms raised in a gesture of victory. Behind him, other soldiers are seen holding flags and banners. The background shows a building with a sign that reads "СВЯТАЯ ТЕРРА" (Holy Land). The entire image is framed by a film strip border at the top and bottom. A large, stylized orange graphic, resembling a star or a ribbon, is positioned in the upper right corner, containing the word "Победа" (Victory) in a cursive font. At the bottom, a black and orange striped ribbon contains the date "9 МАЯ" (May 9) in large white letters.
