

A large, cylindrical concrete bucket with a wooden handle and a metal wire handle is lying on its side on a grassy hillside. The bucket is positioned as if it has just been tipped, with a trail of light-colored sediment or sand leading from its open end down towards a river. The river flows through a valley between steep, rocky mountains. The sky is overcast with soft, diffused light. The overall scene is a metaphorical representation of environmental waste disposal.

«Экологический буксир»

A scenic landscape featuring a calm river or lake in the foreground, reflecting the sky and surrounding greenery. The background shows a dense forest of evergreen trees and rolling hills under a bright blue sky with scattered white clouds. In the immediate foreground, there are green plants with small pink flowers. The text "Берегите природу!" is overlaid in the center of the image in a white, bold, sans-serif font.
