The flag and its history

The flag of the European Union: a circle of twelve golden stars on the site hours on a clock face on an azure background. The number of stars is unchanged.

The stars symbolise the ideals of unity, solidarity and harmony among the peoples of Europe.

The Anthem - Ode to Joy

The anthem of the European Union is a piece of the Ninth Symphony composed by Ludwig van Beethoven in 1823, the text of Friedrich Schiller's poem "Ode to Joy" of 1785.

An instrumental version of the anthem reflects the European ideas of freedom, peace and solidarity.

In 1972, the Council of Europe adopted a fragment of Beethoven's IX "Ode to Joy" as the anthem.
