The first holiday of the year is
New Year's Day.

People see the new year in at midnight on the 31st of December.
They greet the new year with champagne and listen to the Kremlin chimes beating the clock. There are lots of New Year traditions in Russia. In every house there is a New Year tree decorated with coloured lights and ornaments. Children always wait for Father Frost to come and give them a present. Many people consider New Year's Day to be a family holiday. But the young prefer to have New Year parties of their own.

Some typical examples of simple birth day greetings are: "On your mark, get ready, go! It's time for you to steal the show! Happy Birthday!" "Today's your day, so stay tuned in for birthday fun that makes you grin!" "You're № 1, so have fun on your special day! — Happy Birthday!" They serve as testimony to the fact that in the United States the foc us is definitely on the individual, at least on that one very special birthday each year.

HOLIDAYS

There are many national holidays in Russia, when people all over the country do not work and have special celebrations. The major holidays are:
New Year's Day, Women's Day, May Day, Victory Day, and Independence Day.

The custom of putting candles on a birthday cake is said to have started about 200
years ago in Germany, renowned for its high-quality candles. It was considered good luck to blow out all of the candles in one blow.
