

Imagine that you are preparing a project with your friend. You have found some interesting material for the presentation and you want to read this text to your friend. You have 1.5 minutes to read the text silently, then be ready to read it out loud. You will not have more than 1.5 minutes to read it.

An online library is open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. No longer do you have to head online to check library hours or try to rush that book back before the due date; with an online library, you get 24/7 access to your favorite titles, all from the comfort of your own home (or the coffee shop, wherever you happen to be browsing from).

An online library can be accessed anywhere in the world by anyone with a computer. Patrons of an online library aren't confined to a set geographical area, which means that the library can serve countless more people - basically, anyone who has a computer, Internet access and the correct Uniform Resource Locator for the online library can take advantage of its many offerings.

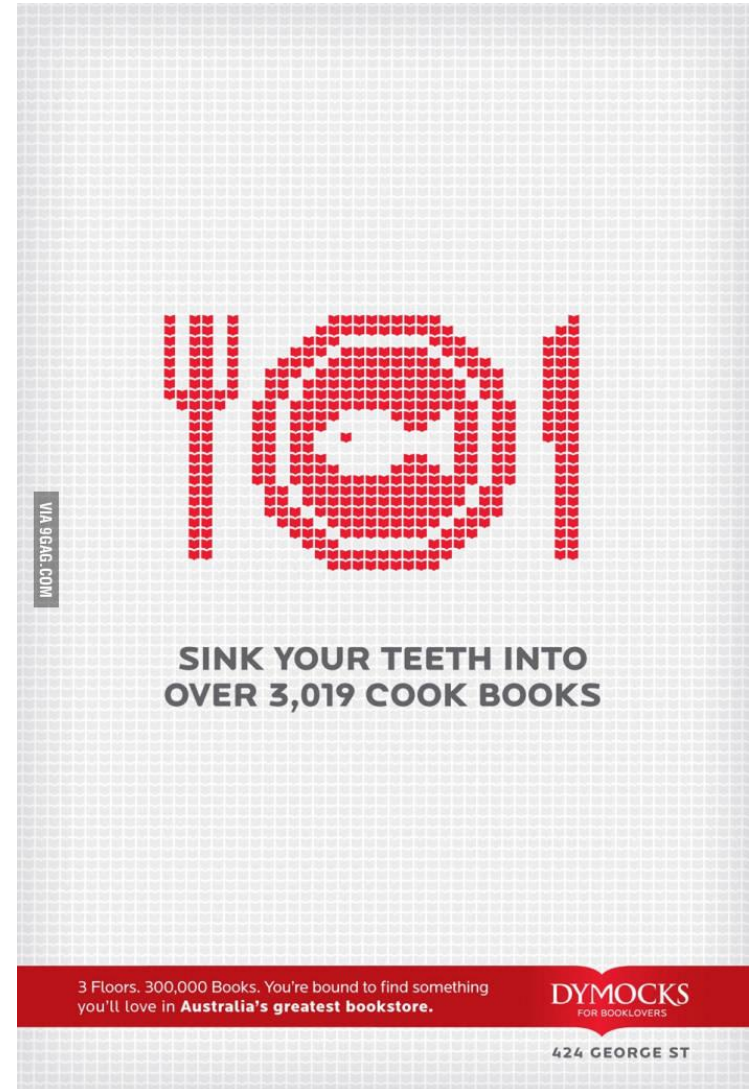

Books in an online library can be checked out by multiple users at the same time. Say goodbye to wait lists on popular titles; with an online library, digital copies of today's hottest books can be checked out by numerous people at once. No lines, no waiting, just a few clicks and you're reading the book you've been dying to check out.

№2 Study the advertisement

You are considering buying a book present and now you are calling the bookshop to find out more information. In 1.5 minutes you are to ask five direct questions to find out the following:

- 1) kinds of books on sale
- 2) if there are any special offers at the moment
- 3) if there is on-line book catalogue
- 4) delivery options
- 5) location

You have twenty seconds to ask each question.

No3 Imagine that you took some photos while writing a report on the importance of libraries in modern world. Choose the one to show to your friend.

In your talk remember to speak about:

- when you took the photo
- what/who is in the photo
- what is happening
- why you kept the photo
- why you decided to show the picture to your friend

№4 be ready to compare and contrast the photographs:

- give a brief description of the photos (action, location)
- say what the pictures have in common
- say in what way the pictures are different
- say which of the ways of reading presented in the pictures you'd prefer
- explain why
