Determine the type of document that you need to fill. There are registration cards intended to be filled at the tax registration, as part of the accounting for property registration and to apply for a visa. Such registration cards have officially established a single form - Read it. In addition, there are many areas in which registration cards are used to organize the data, but do not have a standard form. In such cases, the form of registration cards created by the needs of the organization (eg, registration cards of workers who are made out service HR).

2

Regardless of what kind of registration card have to fill out, there are some rules, observing that you save yourself from the need to refilling, adjustments, and therefore on the extra costs of his time. Fill the document legibly. Ideal - to enter data in block letters.

3

When filling, make sure that you make to the data you have been placed in those fields for which they are intended. Especially this requirement must be strictly observed for the registration cards, which will be entered into electronic databases automatically. In this case, the deviation from the proposed fields will not allow to make your data base.

4

Pointing in the fields in the card only the information that is requested. Unnecessary data in the registration card completely out of place at first, due to the limited space for your answers, and secondly, because of its specificity: the registration card - a document that sought only the data that really will take further processing. Not leave the card blank fields, except those marked as optional. The absence of the necessary data does registration card invalid.

In all cases, for everyone who want to fill in this document, the plant separate registration card. Merge to register a group of people - unacceptable practice.
