

ВЕСНА
ПРИШЛА-
ВЕСНЕ ДОРОГУ!!!

A European Starling (Sturnus vulgaris) is perched on a bare, light-colored branch. The bird is shown in profile, facing left. Its plumage is a mix of dark blue-black and iridescent purple and green, with numerous white spots and streaks, particularly on the wings and back. The bird has a long, pointed, yellowish-orange beak and reddish-brown legs. The background is a soft-focus, light-colored sky with other bare branches visible.

Скворец

2001

ГЛУБОКАЯ
ВЕСНА

