A bird of prey, possibly a falcon or hawk, is perched on a thick, light-colored branch. The bird has a brown and white mottled pattern on its head and neck, with a dark stripe through its eye. Its body is covered in dark brown and white horizontal stripes. The tail is long and features a prominent dark and light wavy pattern. The bird is looking to the right. The background is a dense thicket of green, needle-like foliage, likely a cedar or juniper tree. The lighting is bright, suggesting a sunny day.
