A male peacock is shown from the waist up, facing forward. Its long, slender tail feathers are fully extended, creating a fan-like pattern that covers most of the frame. Each feather features a distinct 'eye' at its tip, consisting of a dark center surrounded by concentric circles of blue, green, and gold. The peacock's body is primarily blue, with a white patch on its wing and a yellowish-green patch on its lower back. The background is a soft-focus green.
