Dear Samantha,

I received your letter, as well as many others coming to me these days from your country, and from other countries of the world.

It seems to me - and I take it from your letter, - that you are a courageous and honest girl... resembling in some way many of the Soviet's friends from the well-known book of your compatriot Mark Twain. All kids in our country - boys and girls alike - know and love this book.

You write that you are worried about our two countries going into a nuclear war, and you ask whether we do something to prevent it.

Your question is "the most important of those that take to the heart of every person.

I will respond to it in an earnest and serious manner. Yes, Samantha, we in the Soviet Union endeavor and do everything so that there be no war between our two countries, so that there be no war at all on Earth. This is the wish of everyone in the Soviet Union. That's what we were taught to do by Vladimir Lenin - the great founder of our state.

Soviet people know all too well how disastrous and terrible a war can be. Forty-two years ago that Germany which aspired to dominate the whole world, attacked our country, burned and
