

A golden monument is shown against a clear blue sky. The monument consists of a central vertical pole with a cross-like structure at the top. A large, detailed winged figure, possibly an angel or a personification of Victory, is attached to the pole, appearing to fly upwards. The figure's wings are spread wide, and its body is intricately detailed. The entire monument is made of a polished, reflective material, likely brass or gold, which catches the light and creates bright highlights and shadows. The background is a solid, clear blue sky.
