

Conflicts

ANPILOV ARTUR

Explain what conflict is. Explain why conflicts happen.

- ▶ Conflict is a natural thing in our life. Conflicts happen because people are different: they want different things, they have different ideas and their values are different. Very often we have conflicts because we don't listen to each other.
- ▶ There can be conflicts between family members, such as brothers and sisters, parents and children, between classmates, friends, roommates, colleagues, parties or states.

Give an example of a conflict. (Between classmates, roommates, family, politics).

- ▶ Example: The conflict between the classmates, the two friends did not share the handle, there was a litter, all ended well - friends died.

Example: The conflict between roommates circle disappeared, one guy obvenil his neighbor, found a circle - the conflict is settled.

Give advice on what people should do if they have a conflict

- ▶ It is necessary to be patient, to listen to what others have to say, respect their opinion and criticize them all the time, because they too have the right to have their own ideas. Moreover, when people resolve conflicts by peaceful means, their relationship will be better in the future.

Intrapersonal conflict.

- ▶ Includes subjectively experienced misalignment of certain trends in the identity of the person (assessment, systems, interest.), Interacting with each other in the development process. In other words, we are talking about a clash of certain incentive structures that can not be met (implemented) at the same time. For example, a man can not love his work, but to be afraid to leave because of the prospects remain unemployed. The child may be tempted to be absent from class and at the same time afraid of being punished for it.
