A large, black, cursive-style number '2' is drawn on a white background with three horizontal black lines. The top line is the highest, the middle line is the baseline, and the bottom line is the lowest. The number '2' starts with a red circular dot on the top line, curves down to cross the middle line, reaches a peak at the bottom line, and then curves back up to cross the middle line again before ending. The lines are thick and the overall style is simple and illustrative.
