A man with short brown hair and glasses is sitting on a simple wooden stool. He is wearing a dark, long-sleeved turtleneck sweater and dark trousers. He is holding a lit cigarette in his right hand, which is raised to his lips. His left leg is crossed over his right leg, and his left foot is resting on the stool. The background is a plain, light-colored wall. On the floor in front of the stool, there is a pile of dark ash or tobacco. The overall mood is contemplative and somewhat somber.
