

Controversy Tram Hotel

Netherlands

- Frank and Irma Appel have restored 2 train carriage and 4 wonderfully themed tram bedrooms. With double bed, shower and toilet facilities and a sink top unit for drinks and snacks, these represent a fantastic Bed and Breakfast location. It used to run on the streets of Amsterdam and Germany.

- Next to the carriage is the Appel house, Controversy - named after their love of the similarly titled Prince album. You can't help but join in the lifestyle that Frank and Irma have created! They themselves sleep inside a London Double Decker bus, installed in the living room, and their kitchen and breakfast area is a converted French van. Their house is decorated with cars, and motor paraphernalia.
