

Global issues:

The impact of globalization on high education

Tagiltseva Kate
431 group

What does globalization mean?

- Globalization - the increase of the role of external factors (economic, social and cultural) in the reproduction of all the member countries in this process, the formation of a single world market without national barriers and the establishment of common legal terms for all countries.

The term globalization

- In the middle 60-s M. Maklyuen introduced the concept of "global village»
- J. McMahon put the concept of "globalization" in sociological context
- R. Robertson in 1983 used the term «globality»

Spheres of influence

Globalization affects:

- Economy
- Policy
- Culture
- Tourism
- Education

The impact of globalization on education

- Today there are more and more educational websites and portals where applicants can see the curricula and programs of their personal courses online.

The impact of globalization on education

- The appearance of distance learning leads to the fact that there are more and more online courses which mean that you do not need to go to the university and seat in classes, all you need is in the Internet.

The impact of globalization on education

- The visualization get some advantages in the learning process

Conclusion

- Globalization has opened national borders for people around the world and made the process of education easy for all types of people at any time.

References

- Baranov O. N., Lebedeva M. M. Globalization and education in modern world // Globalization: human dimension. 2002. P. 54-77
- Education, Globalization and Social Change / ed. by Lauder H., Brown P., Dillabough J., Halsey A.
- Fedotova V. G., Kolpakov V. A., Fedotova N. N. Global capitalism: the three great transformation. M.: Cultural revolution, 2008. P. 348-351
- Titova S. Role of imaging of educational information during training foreign language. 2008. P. 196-201.
- URL:
<http://www.krugosvet.ru/enc/istoriya/GLOBALIZATSIYA.html?page=0,1>

Thank you