

The image shows the coat of arms of the Republic of Gorno-Altai. It features a shield with a white background. In the upper left, there is a golden sun symbol with a cross-like center and four rays. A large, golden, stylized eagle is depicted in flight, its wings spread across the shield. The eagle's body is positioned in the lower left, and its wings extend towards the upper right. The shield is divided into three horizontal bands: a white band at the top, a light blue band in the middle, and a darker blue band at the bottom. In the lower right corner, there is a white stylized tree or plant symbol. The text "Горно-Алтайск" is written in a bold, blue, italicized font across the middle of the shield, overlapping the white and light blue bands.
