An ornate, antique-style wooden desk with a curved top and intricate carvings. The desk is made of dark wood, possibly mahogany, and features a large, curved top panel with a decorative, possibly inlaid or painted, floral or scrollwork pattern. The desk has four legs, with the front legs being curved and the back legs being straight. The desk is set on a light-colored wooden floor. The background shows a museum or gallery setting with other people and a doorway.
