

OXFORD - THE UNIVERSITY TOWN

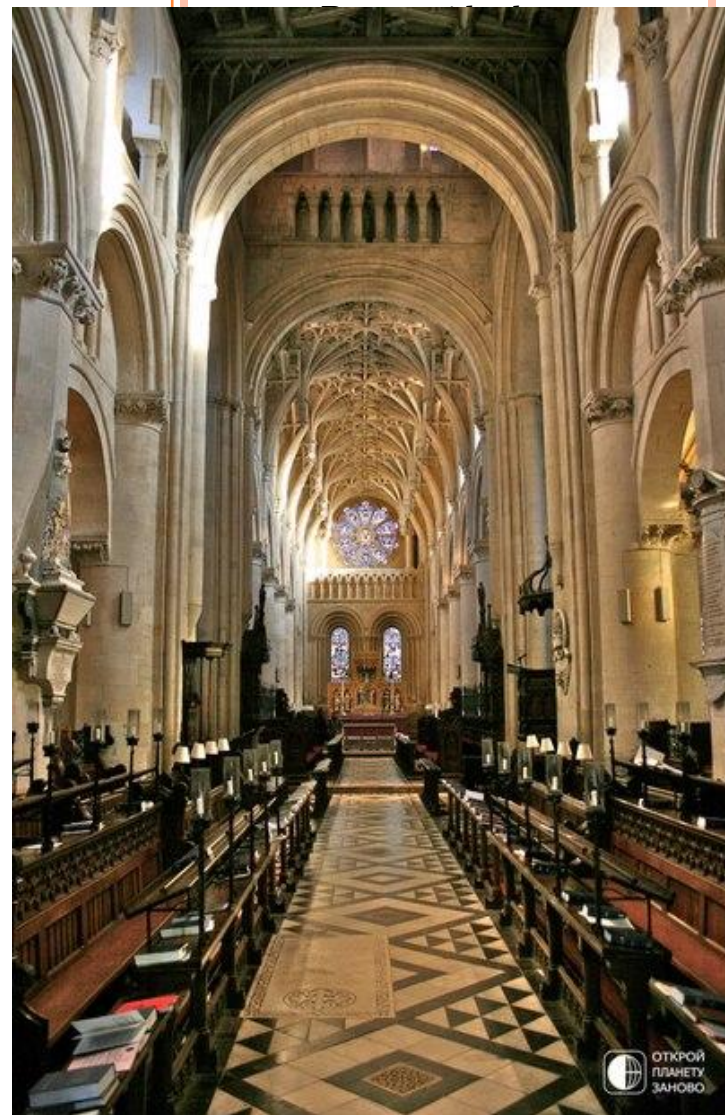

ОТКРЫТИЕ ОКСФОРДА

This university town is very beautiful. The oldest university there is Oxford. The first of its colleges was founded in 1249. The university now has thirty-five colleges and about thirteen thousand students, many of them from other countries.

There were no women at Oxford until 1878. When women's colleges were founded, the first was Lady Margaret Hall, founded in 1878. Now most colleges are open to women and men. It is not easy to get a place at Oxford University to study for a degree.

Oxford is, of course, famous for its first-class education as well as its beautiful buildings. Some of the most intelligent men and women in the country live and work here. Oxford gives them what they need: a quiet atmosphere, friendly colleagues and the four-hundred-year-old library, which has about five million books.

Oxford has some of the finest architecture in Britain. Some of their colleges, chapels and libraries are four and even five hundred years old, and are full of books and precious paintings. You can see there many lovely gardens, where the students can read and relax in the summer months.
