

A vibrant, stylized illustration of an underwater world. The background is a deep blue, transitioning to a lighter blue at the top. In the foreground, there are several colorful fish with yellow bodies and red or orange stripes. To the left, there are green seaweed-like plants and red coral. In the center, there are more green plants and a yellow starfish. On the right, there are two large, yellow fish with red stripes, possibly a shark or a large fish. The overall style is simple and cartoonish, suitable for a children's educational material.
