

SHOPPING

Trade is the willing exchange of goods, services, or both. Trade is also called commerce.

•Goods

When we want to buy something, we go to a shop. There are many kinds of shops in every town or city, but most of them have a food supermarket, a department store, grocery, a bakery and a butchery. We also have a special shopping day when we go to different shops together. It's Saturday because all members of my family have a day-off.

bakery

dairy

breakfast cereals

canned food

confectionery

vegetables

fruit

meat and poultry

fish

deli

frozen food

convenience food

drinks

household products

toiletries

baby products

electrical goods

pet food

magazines

•Our shopping list:

•My every day shopping

Everyday shopping is rather traditional: some white and brown bread, milk, butter, sugar, salt, eggs, sausages. But it's not necessary to visit different provisional shops such as bakery or butchery to buy food for the family because we could buy foodstuffs in a supermarket. Different goods are sold under one roof, so customers can save their time having all goods bought in no time.

However, I prefer shopping with my best friends. We don't always buy something but window-shopping can be also fun. I love to go shopping with mum.

Mum and I go to the supermarket where we can buy different things at once: fish, bread, sausages, tea, sugar, spices, eggs. I think that a bakery department is among the best in the shop as it has a rich choice of biscuits. And what is more importable they are always fresh and tasty.

