

The Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela

Country

- * The Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela a country in northern South America. The richest country in Latin America.

State

- * Venezuela is a federal republic. In accordance with the administrative and territorial division of Venezuela includes 22 states and the federal district and federal ownership, including 72 Caribbean islands.
- * Venezuela's capital Caracas.

Territory

- * Venezuela is the size of its territory (916.5 sq. km.) The size of France, England, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg and Switzerland combined.

Border

* In the west and south-west border of Venezuela and Colombia, on the south and south-east - with Brazil, in the east - with Guyana, on the north by the waters of the Caribbean Sea and the Atlantic Ocean. The length of its coastline - 2813 km. It owns more than seven dozen islands in the Caribbean.

Flag

- * Venezuelan flag is a rectangular panel, divided by three equal-area color bands (yellow, blue and red) with 8 stars in the center. Creation of the flag and the values of all of its elements are closely linked to the national liberation movement of the people of Venezuela from Spanish rule.

Emblem

- * The current coat of arms of Venezuela was first approved by Congress April 18, 1836 and with the passage of time has undergone some changes.

Anthem

- * Song App. Gloria al Bravo Pueblo («Glory courageous people") was adopted as the anthem of Venezuela President Antonio Guzmán Blanco (Antonio Guzmán Blanco) May 25, 1881. The poems were written by a doctor and journalist Vicente Salias (Vicente Salias) in 1810.

nationality

- * Population is divided into three major ethnic groups - whites (Spaniards), mestizos and mulattos. Main nationalities and ethnic groups: 91% - Venezuelans, 3% - Colombians, 2% - Italians, 1% - the Spanish, 1% - Indians

Religion

- * The majority of the Venezuelan population identify themselves as Roman Catholic Church, in which the local population there is a cult of Mary Lyons, is not recognized by the Catholic Church Catholic.

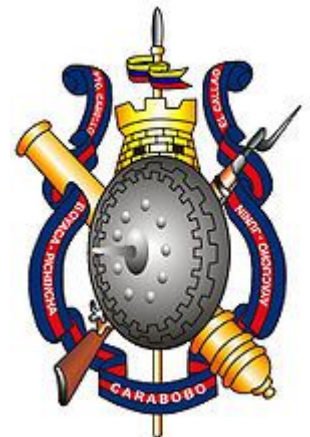

custom and tradition

- * Venezuela - a Catholic country, so many of the local traditions are based on respect for Christian ethics. The church is the center of political, cultural and spiritual life, and the priest in the community usually enjoyed unquestioned authority. In isolated inland areas are still practiced ancient tribal beliefs and values significantly different from the usual European to dogma. In this case, the Venezuelans are very tolerant of cultural and racial differences, and mixed marriages are extremely common, which led to the formation of distinctive multicultural nation.

Army

- * The armed forces of Venezuela (Spanish: Fuerzas Armadas de Venezuela) - Troops of the Republic of Venezuela set designed to protect the freedom, independence and territorial integrity. They consist of the Army, Navy, Air Force and National Guard.

Hugo Rafael Chavez Frias

* Venezuelan statesman and military leader, the president of Venezuela from 1999 to 2013, the head of the United Socialist Party of Venezuela from 2007 to 2013. During the rule of Hugo Chavez's country has made great strides in agriculture, defense, health and education.

The death of the leader of the Bolivarian Revolution

The cause of death of the president of Venezuela, Hugo Chavez has become a massive heart attack. "In the last hours of his life Chavez could not speak and was just trying to move his lips, asked not to let him die," - said the head of the head of state Jose Ornelia. Chile mourns Comandante Chavez.

- * Fadeev Alex
 - * Kharkov Valdemar
 - * Cvetkov Stepantre
-
- * 13 group

