

THE ISSUE OF GLOBALIZATION AND STATE SOVEREIGNTY

Globalization

Levitt T.: global market → global society → globalization

the efficiency of productivity ↔ inequality → globalization

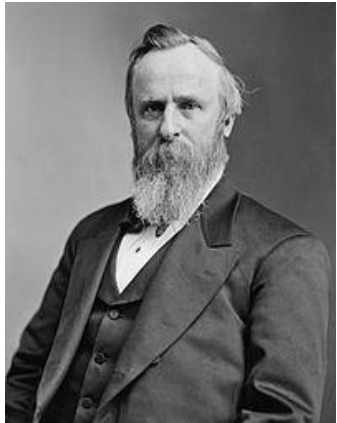

Globalization is the process of unification of different areas that spreads on the whole international society.

SOVEREIGNTY

Georg Jellinek: «an ability of the state to an exceptional legal determination»

Oppenheim L.: «the highest power that does not depend on any other powers»

Sovereignty is a full right and power of a state to govern without any interference from outside and its independence on international arena, including the rights of the other states.

The Constitution of the Republic of Kazakhstan:

The international treaties ratified by the Republic have priority over its laws and are implemented directly, except the cases when the international treaty requires the promulgation of a law.

State immunity is the basis of equality.

International peace and security are the main purposes of the humanity.
