

TRANSLATING PASSIVE VOICE FORMS

English and Russian passive forms are different both in type of form constructions and in frequency.

English passive voice is classified into three types of construction.

- a) direct passive: A book was given to him. It has a corresponding Russian passive voice form:
- Книга была дана ему.
- b) indirect passive: He was given the book. This form is translated by the corresponding Russian active voice verb in the impersonal sentence:
- Ему дали эту книгу.
- c) prepositional passive: The article was not referred to.
- На эту статью не ссылались. The corresponding Russian impersonal sentence is also with the active verb.

Care should be taken when translating English parallel passive verbs, since they may correspond in Russian to the verbs of different cases: He was trusted and respected. –

- Ему доверяли и его уважали.
- In this case the Russian sentence requires repetition of the pronominal object (ему – его);
- otherwise, the sentence would sound grammatically incorrect (**Ему доверяли и уважали*).

- One challenge of translating is the English “double passive”. It takes place when the main predicate is used in the passive voice and the following infinitive is also passive: The treaty is reported to have been signed by both parties.
- In translation, the predicate can be substituted by the active verb: Сообщают, что договор уже подписан обеими сторонами.
- The principal clause can also be substituted by a parenthetical one: Как сообщают, договор уже подписан обеими сторонами.

- Or the passive infinitive can be substituted for the active one, so that the sentence subject turns into the sentence object:
- The prisoners were ordered to be shot.
- Было приказано расстрелять пленников. Finally, there might be a substitution by the noun: The music is intended to be played on the piano. –
- Музыка предназначена для игры на фортепьяно.
