

Several informational papers are pinned to the green wall. The papers contain text and small illustrations, including a snowflake and a bird. The text is in Russian and appears to be related to winter safety or health.

